

parts pretty well. The particulars of the Greek revolution have not been discussed in this correspondence, because they were of no importance. Your readers care little about knowing the value of Mr. Pindar's flying-pans. The connection of the Greek question with the policy of European powers, and the bearings of the law of nations on the doctrine asserted by England, are the points which merit attention, and these have been discussed.

The miraculous change in Louis Philippe's health, predicted two weeks ago, has not failed to take place. MM. Thiers, Guizot, Duchatel, and the other pious plotters to the bedside of their dying monarch, were received by him with great cheerfulness. His presence restored him to perfect health. The particulars of the visit of M. Thiers have been transcribed, through the friends of that adroit gentleman, Louis Philippe rose to receive him, threw his arms about his neck, kissed him, and wept. For some minutes, he was unable to speak. After this affecting scene, which must have melted into tears the hardened pilgrim himself, though he doesn't own it, the two ex-king thought that "the safety of France lay in the fusion of the two branches of the house of Bourbon, and the union of all the monarchs of the French empire." The king replied that he would do "to hasten the coming of the time." But M. Thiers thought that the king was not serious. The king, however, said that he would do "to hasten the coming of the time." But M. Thiers thought that the king was not serious. The king, however, said that he would do "to hasten the coming of the time." But M. Thiers thought that the king was not serious.

From the Northwest.
St. Anthony Falls, June 8, 1850.
To the Editor of the National Era:
I have your reply for my delay in writing, but the numerous cares, duties, and labors necessarily attendant on a settlement in a new country, I trust, excuse me from the charge of neglect. The experience of the past winter and spring has served to render me more cautious, and I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South. I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South.

From the Northwest.
St. Anthony Falls, June 8, 1850.
To the Editor of the National Era:
I have your reply for my delay in writing, but the numerous cares, duties, and labors necessarily attendant on a settlement in a new country, I trust, excuse me from the charge of neglect. The experience of the past winter and spring has served to render me more cautious, and I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South. I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South.

From the Northwest.
St. Anthony Falls, June 8, 1850.
To the Editor of the National Era:
I have your reply for my delay in writing, but the numerous cares, duties, and labors necessarily attendant on a settlement in a new country, I trust, excuse me from the charge of neglect. The experience of the past winter and spring has served to render me more cautious, and I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South. I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South.

From the Northwest.
St. Anthony Falls, June 8, 1850.
To the Editor of the National Era:
I have your reply for my delay in writing, but the numerous cares, duties, and labors necessarily attendant on a settlement in a new country, I trust, excuse me from the charge of neglect. The experience of the past winter and spring has served to render me more cautious, and I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South. I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South.

From the Northwest.
St. Anthony Falls, June 8, 1850.
To the Editor of the National Era:
I have your reply for my delay in writing, but the numerous cares, duties, and labors necessarily attendant on a settlement in a new country, I trust, excuse me from the charge of neglect. The experience of the past winter and spring has served to render me more cautious, and I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South. I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South.

From the Northwest.
St. Anthony Falls, June 8, 1850.
To the Editor of the National Era:
I have your reply for my delay in writing, but the numerous cares, duties, and labors necessarily attendant on a settlement in a new country, I trust, excuse me from the charge of neglect. The experience of the past winter and spring has served to render me more cautious, and I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South. I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South.

From the Northwest.
St. Anthony Falls, June 8, 1850.
To the Editor of the National Era:
I have your reply for my delay in writing, but the numerous cares, duties, and labors necessarily attendant on a settlement in a new country, I trust, excuse me from the charge of neglect. The experience of the past winter and spring has served to render me more cautious, and I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South. I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South.

From the Northwest.
St. Anthony Falls, June 8, 1850.
To the Editor of the National Era:
I have your reply for my delay in writing, but the numerous cares, duties, and labors necessarily attendant on a settlement in a new country, I trust, excuse me from the charge of neglect. The experience of the past winter and spring has served to render me more cautious, and I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South. I have chosen for my home. Though the winter was somewhat colder than I had been accustomed to, it was uniform, and far more pleasant than the frequent changes and extremes of the South.

not be terrified beyond measure at the threats of slaveholders. The people of this Territory, as a general thing, are lovers of freedom, and many of them are watching with intense interest the progress of the great struggle at Washington. Can it be possible that in the light of this age our nation is to commit itself to the propagation of slavery?

Washington, July 6, 1850.
Gentlemen: The coming of the 4th has some interrupted the proceedings of Congress this week. The national legislature giving way to national glorification.

Washington, July 6, 1850.
Gentlemen: The coming of the 4th has some interrupted the proceedings of Congress this week. The national legislature giving way to national glorification.

Washington, July 6, 1850.
Gentlemen: The coming of the 4th has some interrupted the proceedings of Congress this week. The national legislature giving way to national glorification.

Washington, July 6, 1850.
Gentlemen: The coming of the 4th has some interrupted the proceedings of Congress this week. The national legislature giving way to national glorification.

Washington, July 6, 1850.
Gentlemen: The coming of the 4th has some interrupted the proceedings of Congress this week. The national legislature giving way to national glorification.

Washington, July 6, 1850.
Gentlemen: The coming of the 4th has some interrupted the proceedings of Congress this week. The national legislature giving way to national glorification.

Washington, July 6, 1850.
Gentlemen: The coming of the 4th has some interrupted the proceedings of Congress this week. The national legislature giving way to national glorification.

Washington, July 6, 1850.
Gentlemen: The coming of the 4th has some interrupted the proceedings of Congress this week. The national legislature giving way to national glorification.

ing is immense. The loss is estimated at from one to two millions of dollars.—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

CONGRESS.
THIRTY-FIRST CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.
SENATE.
Monday, July 15, 1850.

After the transaction of the usual morning business, the consideration of the report of the Committee of Thirteen was resumed.

Mr. Benton asked that the question be taken on the amendments separately.

Mr. Walker submitted a motion to strike out all of the bill except that part relating to the territory of New Mexico.

Mr. Hale submitted an amendment, granting in express terms to the people of Utah and New Mexico the right to the writ of habeas corpus.

Mr. Benton submitted the following amendment to that part of the bill defining the proposed boundaries of Texas.

Mr. Seward moved to amend the bill by inserting, in the 10th and 33rd sections, the following words:

That neither slavery nor involuntary servitude shall exist in the said Territories of New Mexico and Utah, except for the punishment of crimes, whereof the parties punished shall have been duly convicted.

The amendment was rejected without a count.

Mr. Walker submitted a motion to strike out all of the bill except that part relating to the territory of New Mexico.

Mr. Hale submitted an amendment, granting in express terms to the people of Utah and New Mexico the right to the writ of habeas corpus.

Mr. Benton submitted the following amendment to that part of the bill defining the proposed boundaries of Texas.

Mr. Seward moved to amend the bill by inserting, in the 10th and 33rd sections, the following words:

That neither slavery nor involuntary servitude shall exist in the said Territories of New Mexico and Utah, except for the punishment of crimes, whereof the parties punished shall have been duly convicted.

The amendment was rejected without a count.

Mr. Walker submitted a motion to strike out all of the bill except that part relating to the territory of New Mexico.

Mr. Hale submitted an amendment, granting in express terms to the people of Utah and New Mexico the right to the writ of habeas corpus.

Mr. Benton submitted the following amendment to that part of the bill defining the proposed boundaries of Texas.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.

WATSON & RENWICK, WASHINGTON, D. C.
AGENTS FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE NATIONAL ERA.
They prepare Specifications and Drawings of new inventions, and cause the same to be patented for their proprietors.